Power Of Invaders Along River Line Steadily Growing

TOKYO, Aug. 16 .- (Wednesday)-The Naktong river defense line which has stalled the North Korean Communist invasion for two weeks crumbled Tuesday under three new Red crossings but an American spokesman again emphasized there will be "no Dunkirk."

Communist troops, backed by an armored division of some 120 tanks, forced the three new river crossings on Taegu's approaches in the apparent start of the war's largest offensive.

Invaders Power Growing

American and South Korean forces hammered back with infantry, artillery and air attacks but the power of the invaders along the river was growing.

The Red hordes were under orders of their commanderin-chief, North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung, to win final victory in August.

As the enemy river crossings multiplied a spokesman at General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo warned war in Korea and a postwar government. He made it clear that against "any thought of a Dunkirk."

He declared United Nations Forces now in Korea will hold until sufficient strength arrives to Woman Beaten To Death mount a counter-offensive. Gen. MacArthur did not issue his usual midnight communique.

Swarm Across River Several thousand Red soldiers, accompanied by armor and artil-lery, swarmed over to the Naktong's east bank on both flanks of the U. S. First Cavalry Division in a pincers drive on the northwest cornerstone of the allied front.

The three fresh crossings—one of them only 13 miles from Taegu—gave the North Korean invaders four bridegheads on the east side of the "no retreat" Naktong line. According to what we read in the daily papers, it looks as According to what we read in the daily papers, it looks as though New Castle was going to get somewhere. We would take, according to what we read there, that business will be allowed to progress, and we hope it will be soon. We should have had our new building up and going strong by this time, in place of just getting it started. Winter will soon be here and a war is on, which will make it much more difficult to get what we want done We wonder new just how long it will be

We had very nearly purchased a property outside of the city, and had just about made arrangements to dispose of our present funeral home, but now if we can get things moving, we will try and get started.

We know that this delay will cost us money, but that is not our fault. Trying to do business in a crowded district, has become nearly impossible in the last year.

What should a funeral cost?

That is a question people often ask us. And in reply, we always answer: "What you choose to pay depends entirely upon your own wishes, for you know best what you can afford. We offer services at prices as low as any available elsewhere. Our services are just as complete in every case.'

And that is true. We provide the same high standard of service for every funeral. Whether the rites are simple or elaborate, you decide. We think you will agree that this is a just, sensible pol-mass.

Miss O'Neill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Neill of Winslow avenue, and Mr. Ellis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ellis of West Laurel avenue.

The aisle of the church was fringed with glowing tapers and white gladioli tied with butterfly bows. Matching gladioli and ferns decorated the altar for the ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white nylon mist over satin. The dress was styled with a basque waist and portrait neckline edged with a dainty rolled collar. Large puffed sleeves were pretty features of the creation. A grace-ful double peplum extended to the end of the cathedral train of nylon tulle. A Quaker bonnet of match-ing shirred nylon tulle secured her fingertip veil of imported bridal illusion. She carried a crescent cascade bouquet of fleur d'amour, ivy and stephanotis. The maid of honor, Miss Dolores DeMasi, wore apricot colored ny-lon, and the bridesmaids were attired in delphinium blue nylon. They were fashioned with wide V-necklines. edged with matching shades of blue, yellow and peach colored daisies, pompons and chrysanthemums.

Michael Saginak was best man for the groom. Ushers were William Foreman and Willis L. Slater. A wedding breakfast for the immediate families, followed by an afternoon reception, was held at a New Wilmington dining room. The couple later departed for a honeymoon to an undisclosed destination and upon their return will reside at their newly furnished apartment at 924 Marshall avenue.

In view of this, it is astonishing to discover a behind-the-scenes dispute in which the same old forces seem to be dragging anchor. The dispute is over manganese, one of the scarcest metals and one that is absolutely essential. It is the "cement" that must go into every bit of steel that is made.

The only country in the world with large known deposits of high-grade manganese is Soviet Russia. In the past a considerable share of our imports has come from Russia. But in the past two years this has been reduced to a trickle.

THE CHILD AND HIS FRIENDS

Many parents are worried over the companion of their son or daughter. The usual reaction of parents toward the companions, especially of the opposite sex, of whom they strongly disapprove, is to harp on the personal traits or qualities in the companion or to grow angry and quarrelsome with tively discourteous or openly antagonistic to the companion

Those Extraordinary Twins (By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 15.—It's a long time between drinks over at Blair House where the Commander in Chief and the Chief Executive are playing Alphonse and Gaston while the nation sweats

From where the Commander sits it's a world war against a latter-day Genghis Khan with the starving hordes of Eurasia at his back. It's the global slum-dwellers and the ne'er-do-wells, hooched up with the firewater of Communism, marching to Main street for vengeance and loot. The Commander's plain duty, sworn under oath, is to put the whole nation on a war footing, collect a posse of allies and be prepared to disperse the mob with whatever dispersal weapons he has in the locker. Everything has to come second to the war effort. It's them or us.

Can't See It That Way

But the Executive can't see it that way—not yet. Last time the nation muscled up for war, there was a lingering business depression and 10 or 12 million unemployed in the labor force. Today, there's a continuing boom and only about 3 million persons out of work. Shall the Executive convert this industrial prosperity to war production and domestic shortages? Shall he drain the bottom of the labor barrel and he forced to proclaim a 48-hour week?

be forced to proclaim a 48-hour week?

Only a few months ago the Executive made one of his celebrated whistle-stop tours. He told the American people of his "dream" for ever-lasting prosperity with less work and more income for all. He envisioned an 82nd Congress, elected on the promise of more handouts than ever, which would at last enact his Fair Deal program. A nice guy this Executive, who hoped to play a lot of poker on the back porch to be serenaded there by the hosannas of the throng. Why not? The farmers would be rich on government largesse, the workers would be riddling their employers with one-way contracts, the thriftless would be cared for and the minorities would be equalized by Federal fiat. There never was a President with more reason to "hate war" than Harry Truman

Cannot Pretend They Don't Exist

But you don't avoid wars by pretending they don't exist. You don't win them by inviting the enemy to strike first. Trouble is that the Commander and the Executive haven't been able to get together up till now. Military advisers come to Blair House and point out, for example, the practical value of a tie-up with Spain—the geography, the standing army, the traditional anti-Communism of this Catholic nation. But the Labor leaders shout "No tie-up with Franco! Why, he's a dictator and a labor-hater. The boys over at the CIO won't stand for that. And what about our liberal friends in Europe? They just won't tolerate any tolerance when it applies to other people. Spain must be segregated, discriminated against and consigned to the international jim-crow car Well, the Commander could easily point out that Stalin is also a dictator and labor-hater. There hasn't even been a strike in Russia ince the workers supposedly lost their chains. And what will the European liberals do if we tie up with Franco? Refuse to accept Marshall Plan aid? Decline to accept our arms? Rebuff our GI's who come to protect and liberate them?

Can't Say Such Things

But the Commander can't say such things in the presence of the xecutive. Somebody might mention a certain debt of gratitude, dating pack to 1948. If it hadn't been for the unions, the cash-growing farmers and the racial minorities-well, Harry, you know what.

The Blair House impasse is more remindful every day of the Mark Twain story "Those Extraordinary Twins." The twins had only one body, as Harry Truman has. But they had two heads and two distinct personalities, as he has. When the bad twin got drunk, the good twin had to suffer a hangover. Mark Twain put this pair through many adventures, but he neglected to let one of them become President. That would have been much too incredible for a fiction story. Things like that never happen anywhere except in real life.

School Teacher Ends Own Life

CAMDEN, N.J., Aug. 15-(INS) An attractive 25-year-old school teacher shot herself fatally with a rifle in her car yesterday on the Delaware River bridge.

Jeanette Lafferty, a fifth grade teacher at the Central school in Woodbury, N.J., died four hours later at Camden Cooper hospital from a bullet wound in the brain. Police said a note, unsigned and unaddressed, was found in the car. It read:

"I'm done living. God put me on earth and he is taking me off because I failed miserably."

The woman had returned to her parents' home in Monroeville, Salem county, N.J., on Sunday, from Cornell University where she had attended a summer session.

Recruiting for the 229th Field Artillery Battalion is picking up in the downtown headquarters, Lt. Col. George F. iMtchell said today. A recruiting office has been opened in the Service Center on East street. This is a storeroom located midway between Washington and North streets on East street on the east side of the street. Serve with Hometowners

Apparently the new recruits be-lieve it will be more satisfactory to serve with their friends from home and this element seems to be re-sponsible for a number of enlistments.

The 229th is the headquarters for the 28th Division Field Artillery and in this unit are such men as telephone and radio operators, clerks, cooks, bakers, truck and jeep drivers and other specialist lines.

On September 5 the battalion goes to Camp Atterbury, Ind., as a part of the 28th Division and will train there.

Thursday night, August 17, an induction ceremony will be held in the Cunningham Armory in Cascade Park. All recruits up to that time will be sworn in by an officer of the battalion with a short speaking program preceding it.

Prior to the induction ceremony a parade will move out from the Legion Home at 7:45 headed by the state champion Legion Band. The parade will move to the court house, where trucks will carry the units of the 229th and the band to

The induction ceremony is open to the public and it is hoped will attract a crowd of citizens.

BLACK ROT ON GRAPES

REPORTED INCREASING Black rot is increasing and spreading in some grape vineyards.
Where brown to black shriveled grapes are found, black rot has advanced to the stage where it is difficult to control. Where the disease has not reached the advanced stage sprays with ferbam (2 pounds per 100 gallons or 3 tablespoons per gallon) will help keep it in check.

If ferbam is not available, or where mildew also is present, 6-6-100 bordeaux or fixed copper may be used. Apply the fixed copper at the rate of 3 tablespoons of 50 per cent metallic plus 3 tablespoons of fresh spray lime.

BOYS AND GIRLS TO ENTER JUNIOR PIG ROUND-UP

ALL THEY ASKED WAS AN EVEN BREAK

It took strong hearts as well as strong muscles to build a new country. But there were men and women with courage enough to risk everything - even their lives - for an ideal. All they asked was an even break.

America was built on the principle of an even break. The strength and riches of this country came from the vision and effort and personal initiative of its people. But the American ideal of an even break is destroyed when government goes into business in direct competition with its own citizens. For government in business demands special privileges that are denied people in business.

example. They pay no Federal taxes. They get money from the U.S. Treasury at little or no interest - and their losses are made up from the pockets of all taxpayers. You pay - through your payroll deductions.

But America's business-managed electric light and power companies are self-supporting. Like all of American business, they pay their full share of taxes, and fair interest on money they borrow. And they've built for America the most and the best electric service in the world.

There are new frontiers in electric living still to be opened. Remember this: business men can do the job better than bureaucrass. All they ask is an even break.

Senators Seek To Take Series From Johnstown Here Tonight

Johnnies Victors Monday, 5 To 4; Pittsburgh Ring Tight Four-Team Race For Top Spot

league for the top spot.

New Castle, Oil City, Erie and Butler are battling tooth and nail. The fiery young Senators lost a golden opportunity last night to climb into the league lead, by losing a heart-breaking 5-4 decision to Johnstown, while Butler was murdering the slipping Oil City Refiners 13-4, who have lost three straight.

Butler now stands 312 games back and so do the Erie Sailors, the latter team being idle these last three days.

Joe Smolko Pitches Tonight

On the trusty right-arm of the veteran Joe Smolko rests the task tonight at 8:30 o'clock, of gaining the series edge over the trouble some Johnnies. Herb Churchill was slated to go tonight, but has developed a back condition. It was Manager Roy Nichols of Johnstown who broke the Senators back last night, his fourth inning homer over the center-field wall un-nerved young George Becka who had been hurling a great game, fanning six of the first 11 men to face him. Nichols also had a double and single, his double in the eighth driving in another run.

21 Games To Play

The Senators had the bases full in both the eighth and ninth innings but could get but one run each frame. There are 20 games left on the Senators card this year- 11 at pressing matters.

IS NIGHT BASEBALL DOOMED—within the next decade? It would seem so if the opinion of some rings true. They report the lights are hard on batters, equally so on fielders, and generally speaking, night baseball is injurious to players. Concerning floodlights, New Castle was the first to put night football beneath the lights . . In Chicago, they are talking about a shot Bobby Locke made during the All-American tournament. It was in the play-off and he used a number three wood on the sixteenth hole. The shot was headed for the creek when it bounded off a woman spectator's shoulder and careened creek when it bounded off a woman spectator's shoulder and careened to within 15 feet of the pin . . . One of the sports writers at the All-Star grid game likes the runners, so he placed a bet on "Little Flower." The sports writer made a little prayer, vowing that he would give half his win ticket to the church of the same name. He played the nag to win. The horse ran second. "I didn't think the church would mind if I kept it all," he said, according to Walter St. Johns of the Central Press. "After all, I didn't promise to give any of my place bet." . . . Coaltown, out of action for some time, will race at Hialeah this winter.

Rosen Is Star As Indians Win

Thirty-First Homer Ties Game In Ninth

By HOWARD SIGMAND
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug 15.—Al "Flip"
Rosen, the Cleveland third baseman who was confronted with a spring "do-or-die" edict, has an excellent chance of winding up as the American League's rookie-of-the-year.

He was instrumental in moving the Tribe into second place, 2½ games behind pace-setting Detroit last night as the Indians edged the Tigers, 3 to 2, in a ten-inning

Hits 31st Homer

His ninth-inning homer with two out staved off defeat for his team and brought about the overtime. Earlier, Rosen had scored his team's first run off Hal Newhouser. He led off the second inning with a double, moved up on a fly ball and tallied on an infield out.

The Bengals did all their scoring off Early Wynn in the ninth. Both runs were due to a circuit clout by Johnny Groth, his eighth. It looked like Prince Hal was going to win 2-1 but Rosen changed the situation in the bottom half.

The winning run registered on a double by Allie Clark, a sacrifice, two intentional passes and a ground out that sent pinch-funner Roberto Avila across.

Wynn, who allowed seven hits received his thirteenth win. Newouser, who gave up eight, suffered his seventh loss.

This was the only American game scheduled.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs dumped the fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals, 7 to 6. on Preston Ward's two-run single in the ninth. Andy Pafko hit his 27th homer for the Bruins.

An eleven run third inning enabled the Cincinnati Reds to down the Pittsburgh Pirates, 13 to 8, in the only other National League contest.

In winning the 1948 National League batting championship, Stan Musial hit safely in 121 of 155 games.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 — Henry Ransom, a 39-year-old transplanted Texan who now registers from St. Andrews Country club, St. Charles, III., was the possessor today of a check for $11,000 and a huge cup—the winnings of the "World Championship of Golf."

Ransom, who up to yesterday played an unspectacular type of golf despite his position as 10th leading money winner, holed out in 36-33—69, three under par, to defeat Chick Harbert by three strokes in an 18-hole playoff at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter Country club.

All six Allen and Huston runs in that fifth inning came after a dropped fly in back of first base with two men out. Big blow in that inning was Pace's long, high home run to right field.

Tony Tuscano started for the Stegs and stuck around until the finish to receive credit for the win. Chris Demos started for A. B. H. but gave way to Greg Ross in the second. Beres came in during the fifth and finished for Allen and Huston.

Second game of the series will be played Wednesday evening at Gaston Park.

OVERSTAYING VESIT

"On a recent weekend visit, I overstayed my time because of bad weather. My day for departure was very rainy, so I asked my hostess if I might remain another day. Of course she acquired day. Of course, she acquiesced. My sister tells me I made a grave error in asking to stay. Did I?"

Answer: That depends upon the circumstances. If your hostess is a very intimate friend, you were justified in asking if you might stay, especially if you insisted that she keep any previous engagements she had and that she make no plans whatever to entertain If you were not on very intimate terms with her, you should not have asked that favor of her, for naturally she had to 'say "yes" whether or not your prolonged visit was an inconvenience.

Ordinarily, a hostess specifies a certain time for a guest's visit. In her invitation, she usually says matters drift. Your friends will "come from Saturday noon until Sunday evening" or whatever time she wishes you to leave and you should go home at the suggested time, unless you are urged to restaying at several heavied. How she wishes you to leave and you should go home at the suggested time, unless you are urged to remain longer.

Question: Is it permissible to announce an engagement when the wedding will not take place for a year or more?

Question: My sister and I are about to take a trip necessitating staying at several hotels. She is single and I am married. How should we register?

Answer: Mrs. John Smith (for a married woman). A single woman: Miss Mary Jones.
